

MARGARET PEMBERTON INSTANTLY KILLED

WAS SHOT DOWN BY HERMAN E. BARRETT THURSDAY EVENING

Barrett is Being Held at the Police Station to Await Action of Coroner's Jury—Had Been Acting Queerly For Some Time—Inquest Will be Held This Morning

Jacksonville was the scene of another tragedy Thursday evening when Mrs. Margaret Pemberton, 627 Henry street, was shot and instantly killed by Herman E. Barrett, 633 Henry street, a next door neighbor. The shooting took place in the back yard of the Pemberton home about 7 o'clock. Barrett only fired one shot from a .38 calibre revolver. The bullet struck Mrs. Pemberton in the face about one-half inch back and upward of the right angle of the mouth. It ranged upward thru the mouth and punctured the right carotid artery causing a profuse hemorrhage. The bullet passed on thru the muscles and tissue of the neck fracturing the right end of the first cervical vertebrae and came out at the back of the head. The police were notified and Capt. Elliott, Patrolmen Williams, Blue and Reynolds went to the scene of the shooting. Chief Kiloran also was notified and soon joined the other officers at the Pemberton home. When the officers arrived they went to Barrett's residence and saw him sitting in the room with a revolver on the table. Capt. Elliott went to the door and knocked and Barrett came to the door with a revolver in one hand and a flash light in the other. However, he did not attempt to shoot and Capt. Elliott told him he had better lay the revolver down.

CONFERENCE OF WOMEN OPENED AT WASHINGTON

Greeting from Harding and Address by Davis

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—With the reading of greetings from President Harding and an address by Secretary Davis the three day industrial conference of women held under the auspices of the women's bureau today got underway. More than 300 delegates from fifty industrial, social, and civic organizations were in attendance. The president in his letter encouraged women to participate more generally in public and social activities, while the secretary of labor stressed the importance of preventing exploitation of women in industry. Mrs. Raymond Robbins of Chicago, president of the International Federation of Workingwomen, asserted she favored industrial welfare legislation for both men and women because "humanity is intended not only to produce the material things of comfort and pleasure, but also to have leisure and strength to enjoy those material things." Senator McCormick, Republican of Illinois, spoke briefly in support of his proposed amendment to the federal constitution prohibiting child labor, and Representative Alice Robertson of Oklahoma, offered a plea for employed mothers, urging that they be kept in the home.

BOOTLEGGING PLACES ARE INSANITARY

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Jan. 11.—Insanitary conditions were found by federal prohibition agents today during a raid on a farm near Klondyke, Iowa, "the worst yet uncovered in this section of the country," H. L. Duncan, prohibition director for the northwest, said tonight. A report to Mr. Duncan said the agents seized 150 gallons of moonshine, six liquor stills and arrested Richard Schaefer, Klondyke farmer, during the raid. Arrest of four others was expected. "It is not surprising to hear of poisoning and deaths among moonshine drinkers when you learn of conditions such as those found in Iowa," said Mr. Duncan. Much of the moonshine sold in Sioux Falls, S. D., came from Klondyke, Mr. Duncan added.

COMMISSIONERS SPEND TWO HOURS DISCUSSING DEBT Have Not Reached Point of Specific Terms

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—American and British debt commissioners spent two hours today discussing the subject of Great Britain's four billion dollar debt to the United States but it was stated officially that the conversations had not progressed to the point of consideration of specific terms. Chairman Mellon and other members of the American commission were represented as feeling confident an agreement would come out of the negotiations before January 20, the tentative date set for the departure of the British for home. Much of today's discussion had to do with the methods of payment and the general condition of British government finances. The conversations will be resumed tomorrow. It was explained that a settlement of such magnitude required careful preliminary consideration and that it was too early to hazard even a guess as to the interest rate and ultimate time of payment that might be agreed upon finally. The American delegation it was made known is approaching the subject of terms in a most liberal spirit. One factor known to be receiving considerable consideration is that the money which Great Britain is to pay was spent in this country with a profit to American business and labor and a large income to the United States government thru taxes.

THE CONTROLLING FACTOR

The chief and controlling factor in the negotiations however, will be the amount of money that Great Britain will be able to pay annually. In this connection attention was called in a summary of the British financial condition, made public by the commissions that in order to balance its budget for this year Great Britain has to give up its sinking fund payment for the ultimate retirement of its public debt. Normally the sinking fund payment is 35,000,000 pounds sterling annually. In the budget for this year was included approximately 20,000,000 pounds of sterling which already has been paid to this country on account of interest on the debt. The total British debt was stated to be 7,700,000,000 pounds sterling. The percentage of the total expenditure this year on account of interest on that debt was placed at 37.8. Expenditures for this year for the fighting forces, army, navy and air service was placed at 16.7 percent of the whole as compared to 24 percent for America's fighting forces. Administration of the British government including collection of revenue was estimated at 11.5 percent or about the same percentage as obtains for the United States. Of the total British revenues, it was stated that 5.5: came from income and super-taxes; 17.5 percent from duties on consumptions of beverages and liquors; 5.2 percent from duties on food; 5.2 percent from death duties and the same amount from excess profits corporation profits duties.

JURISDICTION OF RAILROAD LABOR BOARD CHALLENGED

Counsel for Pennsylvania Present Argument to Court.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—In argument presented today in the supreme court, counsel for the Pennsylvania railroad system challenged the jurisdiction of the railroad labor board over wages of railway workers and their working conditions. The board they contended exceeded its authority in setting aside agreements negotiated between the company and its shop employees. On the other hand the government argued the board had not exceeded the powers conferred on it by the transportation act of 1920.

Blackburn Esterline, assistant to the solicitor general, asserted that the board was a fact finding body, nothing more than an arbitration tribunal dependent on the support of public opinion for the enforcement of its findings and was not subject to suit. M. D. McKenney, counsel for the Pennsylvania contended that the board had misconceived the scope of its jurisdiction, power and functions and had sought to extend its power beyond the provisions of the transportation act. The argument was heard on the appeal of the Pennsylvania to restrain the board from interfering with an election of employee representatives from declaring contracts between the company and its employees void and from publishing an opinion that the company had violated the labor board's findings.

BELIEVE THEY HAVE CAPTURED LOONEY

EAST LAS VEGAS, N. M., Jan. 11.—A man, who according to Chief of Police P. J. Murphy, answers the description of John Looney, wanted in Rock Island, on a charge of murder but who claims his name is Frank Townsend, was arrested here tonight and placed in jail. Mr. Murphy said fingers of the man held would be sent to Rock Island for comparison with those of Looney. The man's arrest followed feeble cries for help coming from a box car in a freight train arriving here. Investigation showed that the man was almost dead from the cold. He was taken to the police station and Chief Murray noticing that the man talked with the description of John Looney, decided to hold him for investigation. The man told the police, Chief Murray says, that he got into a box car at Lamy, about 50 miles south of here, that afternoon the door was shut and fastened on the outside and he could not get out. The last word received here in regard to Looney was that he was entrenched in the hills in San Juan county about about 100 miles northwest of here, surrounded by a number of cowboys comrades and that a posse had started for his hiding place to capture him.

RUHR DISTRICT IN HANDS OF FRENCH TROOPS THURSDAY

Rich Industrial Section of District is Occupied

ESSEN, Jan. 11.—Germany's richest industrial section of the Ruhr district is in the hands of the French troops tonight owing to the failure of the Germans to live up to the stipulations of the treaty of Versailles. While the occupation is not actually spread over the entire district, its leading city, Essen, is occupied and the 600,000 inhabitants of the municipality are now subject to the supervision of soldiers with fixed bayonets and full field equipment.

The proclamation of General DeGoutte in command of the French army which is addressed to the residents of the city says that the Franco-Belgian troops are being sent into the Ruhr to assist the allied engineers commission in obtaining the coal required from Germany on the reparations account. It announces that German social and other laws, including that providing for an eight hour day will remain in force. The German officials are requested to continue at their accustomed duties, and the press is advised that it will not be interfered so long as it does not publish articles libeling the occupying armies. Posts and telegraphs will continue fundamentally the same. The situation has been remarkable for the calmness and orderliness of the great masses of people who swarmed the streets, curious to see the French soldiers. There undoubtedly was something of a moderating influence in the appearance of the line of armed cars bristling rifles and the disposition of a number of machine guns. One of the latter was mounted at the entrance of the postoffice.

It is noteworthy that the German police showed great readiness to co-operate with the troops especially in keeping the people off forbidden ground. An incident of the occupation was the sudden mounting of a French guard at the postoffice. The correspondent of the Associated Press among the dozen persons inside when the soldiers arrived. All of them were kept virtual prisoners for more than half an hour. Nobody was allowed to enter or leave unless they were able to show special passes or to furnish identification other than ordinary travel papers.

The telegraphs and telephones were suspended about one hour. The troops of occupation were busy tonight settling in their new surroundings. Reports received from outlying sections of the Ruhr indicate that the miners and other men are working as usual.

WITNESSES TELL OF MEETING OF KLAN IN PARISH COURT HOUSE

Was for the Purpose of Selecting a Committee to Pass on the Mer Rouge Citizens With Anti-Klan Activities—Many Names of Alleged Klansmen Were Made Public

BASTROP, La., Jan. 11.—Stories of a meeting of the Ku Klux Klan in the Morehouse Parish court house, of a meeting of select committee to pass on the question of a Mer Rouge citizen charged with "anti-klan" activities, and of instructions given three Mer Rouge citizens to "leave town," contributed to the record today in the open investigation now under way into the hooded band activities in Morehouse and the kidnapping and slaying of W. M. Daniel and Thomas Richard. For the first time during the investigation the name of Governor John M. Parker was brought to the fore by a witness.

"Isn't it true that Captain Skipwith always became indignant when Governor Parker's name was mentioned?" was asked of R. L. Dade, mayor of Mer Rouge, who described himself as a former Klansman. Dade replied in the affirmative.

Captain Skipwith is exalted cyclops of the Morehouse Klan organization. Dade was testifying as to the meetings being held to "restore peace in Mer Rouge."

Hugh Clark, Mer Rouge merchant who admitted that he is a klansman, brought forward the case of Addie May Hamilton, who testified that she was deported from Louisiana by members of the Klan with a declaration that at the request of the young woman that she be permitted to return to her home near Mer Rouge, he circulated a petition and obtained the approval of Captain Skipwith for her return. Thruout the testimony today as on previous days the name of Captain Skipwith had a prominent place.

FIRST STAGE OF OCCUPATION HAS BEEN CARRIED OUT

Two Divisions Occupied Essen and Other Points

LONDON, Jan. 11.—The first stage of the Franco-Belgian application of penalties to defaulting Germany with regard to coal and timber was carried out today when two divisions of Rhine troops devoted to the task of protecting the control commissions sent to the Ruhr began their advance and Essen and other points are occupied.

The operations were conducted without untoward incidents the French commanders showing a disposition to avoid creating needless trouble. So far as the city of Essen is concerned, after formal entry and parade all the troops with the exception of about 200 placed in control of a few public buildings and the railroad station were withdrawn to the outskirts of the town.

Apparently there is no intention of calling a strike of the Ruhr miners, the German government contending itself with more or less passive resistance and a protest against the Franco-Belgian proceedings which takes the shape of virtual repudiation of the Versailles treaty and a cessation of efforts to pay the reparations.

Germany also partially ruptured diplomatic relations with France and Belgium but beyond these steps seems inclined to adopt a waiting attitude to see whether the French policy will go any further on January 15 when the present moratorium comes to an end and another reparations payment of 500,000,000 gold marks becomes due.

French action in the present instance is being taken solely on the German default in coal and timber deliveries. Another point not definitely solved is the attitude of the Italian government, Premier Mussolini seemingly is reluctant to support Franco-Belgian action with Italian troops altho agreeing in principle with the French policy. The British cabinet at its meeting today it is understood decided upon a waiting policy. The British troops will not be withdrawn from the Rhine for the present at least and no step has been taken which would affect the close entente relations. It is still the hope in official London that France will realize nothing concrete can be gained by her present policy.

A THOUGHT
And He said unto them, Take heed and beware of covetousness: for a man's life consisteth not in the abundance of the things which he possesseth. — Luke 12:15.
The first principle of all human economy, individual or political, is to live with as few wants as possible, and to waste nothing of which is given to supply them. — John Ruskin.

A representative down at Washington has charged the anthracite operators with shipping coal into Canada at such a price that it can be retailed at much less than the prices which prevail in the U. S. This is merely a charge and remains to be proved. There is plenty of evidence of a real shortage of anthracite coal in the U. S. and the principal producers are charging just the same as last year for their product. This talk about Canadian shipment may be something like the charges made against Attorney General Daugherty.

While recommendations have been made for additions to a number of post office buildings, it is not likely that many of these jobs will be undertaken by the government this year. In fact, plans for nearly 150 new buildings were approved several years ago and contracts not let because bids were not within the limit of the appropriation. With these building projects still pending, no very extensive additional program will be attempted. The department is wise in its determination not to enter into competition with the home and business building program of the country.

The appropriation committee in the Illinois senate has unanimously recommended the payment of $75,000 to Attorney General Brundage for the further prosecution of the Herrin cases. This is good evidence that the general assembly is in favor of supporting the effort being made to bring those guilty in the Herrin massacre to justice.
The effort has been on the part of some miners' organization leaders to show that only the Illinois chamber of commerce is interested in this prosecution.

No better proof of the continued and increasing interest in golf could be afforded in Jacksonville than by the presence of the large audience at the annual meeting of the local association last night. Each season adds its quota of new players and the municipal links play a constantly more important part in the recreational life of Jacksonville. That which can be done in a cooperative way to improve the grounds will have a very general support, because of the widening interest in this great sport.

STATE NOW HAS TITLE TO THE FAIR GROUNDS
Was Deeded Yesterday by Sangamon County Officials
(By The Associated Press)
SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Jan. 11.—The Illinois state fair grounds, owned by Sangamon county today was deeded to the State of Illinois by the Sangamon county board of supervisors. A controversy existing for years over the ownership of the grounds on which the state fair buildings are located was thus amicably settled.
The state will proceed with extensive improvements, including the addition to the grounds of 209 acres of adjacent land, Governor Small said.
The action of the board of supervisors follows a recent announcement of Governor Small that improvements would not be made until the county gave the state a clear title to the land.
The old agreement under which the state held the land provided that if the fair was suspended for two consecutive years, the land would revert to the county.
Proposed improvements include erection of a building to take the place of the dome building destroyed by fire in 1917, and an automobile pavilion. An appropriation of $550,000 for improvements is now in the state treasury.

BIG BILL HAYWOOD TAKES THE COUNT.
"Haywood, the former I. W. W. leader in the United States, is down and out in Russia because he failed in the management of a colony he had organized there to work out his Utopian ideas," says the Republican Publicity association. "He thought a colony could be formed and operated in defiance of the principles of what he calls 'capitalism'—the individual right to the enjoyment of the fruits of individual ability, energy and thrift. The colony failed and its members are starving. Haywood is despondent because even his friends have turned against him, charging that he has no administrative ability."
"The outcome is not in any way surprising. I. W. W. leaders, communists of all grades of radicalism, and agitators in general are excellent propagandists, but they are poor administrators. They have theories because they have not had practice. They have plenty of thime to promulgate their theories because they are not engaged in any practical work of a constructive nature. They get away with much of their propaganda because the practical people of the world are too busy earning a living and building up industry to answer their fallacious arguments. But when they are subjected to the test of experience, they invariably fail to make good."
"Capitalism has its evils, but the remedy will never be found in the destructive policies of communism. Communism will succeed for a short time—as long as it can feed upon the fruits of capitalism—but when the savings of people of thrift have been consumed, communism has nowhere to turn for a means of livelihood."
"The outcome of the Haywood adventure ought to be a lesson to the other communists who still remain in America, but perhaps it is too much hope that they will learn anything by the experience of others. They must themselves have a demonstration of the utter fallacy of their theories. They will go on agitating, and may have some few recruits from among thoughtless youth not yet trained in the school of experience. They will acquire few adherents from among those who have learned life by honest, diligent, useful, productive effort."

REFORMATORY IS PLANNED AT CAMP GRANT ILLINOIS
House Judiciary Committee Reports Out Bill Thursday.
(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—The house judiciary committee reported a bill today for establishment of an industrial reformatory at Camp Grant, Ill. Existing prisons, the committee's report said are so overcrowded that unless additional facilities are provided the government will be in anomalous position of convicting men with no place provided for the incarceration.
"In establishing such a new institution," said the report, "rather than make it another penitentiary many considerations urge the establishment of a reformatory in which may be confined young male and first offenders between 17 and 30 years."

OAK LAWN WORK IS TO BE CONTINUED
County Commissioners Agree That Institution Must Be Maintained Until People Have Chance to Provide Special Fund.
At a conference of county commissioners and the Morgan County Anti-Tuberculosis board held Thursday afternoon it was definitely decided that the sanatorium shall be continued in operation. There have been rumors that after Dr. Martini, the superintendent, leaves Feb. 1, the sanatorium will be closed. The action taken yesterday definitely sets at rest such rumors.
The county commissioners agreed that a sufficient amount should be taken from the regular county funds to keep the sanatorium in operation upon the most economical basis possible during the coming months, and until such time as the people of the county shall again have opportunity to vote a special tax for the maintenance of the sanatorium.
The members of the county board made it plain that the operation of the sanatorium thru the expenditure of regular county funds cannot be continued indefinitely. A great deal of repair work needed on county buildings has been postponed from time to time because of lack of funds, and the general revenues of the county are not sufficient to meet both the general expenses of the county and the operation cost of the sanatorium. A portion of such costs can be provided from regular funds, but for the most part it must come from a special tax.

The directors of the Tuberculosis sanatorium, A. A. Curry, W. R. Turnbull and Dr. T. O. Hardesty, presented their annual report. It was mentioned in the report that the sanatorium is now caring for twenty-four patients and that the work is moving along smoothly and with good results.
The financial statement for the year shows total expenditures of $30,408.28. The total number of persons discharged during the 12 months was 68. Other interesting facts were presented in the board's review of its activities.

LARGER STRUCTURES NOW BEING ERRECTED

Figures for National Survey of Strauss & Co., Show Changes in Building Types.

The volume of increases in building permits issued thruout the country in 1922 did not increase in proportion to the value of the increases in buildings erected and planned, thus indicating a universal tendency toward larger and more costly types of structures. Builders recognize the changes which are taking place in the standard of living in this country and are erecting structures to meet the changing requirements of people generally.

These facts are revealed in an analysis of reports received by S.
W. Strauss & Co. from all parts of the country in the preparation of their national building survey.

The closing days of December witnessed an augmented demand for building permits in many important cities, illustrating a tendency toward increased activities for the new year. In New York City permits for more than $6,- 000,000 in tenement house construction in the Borough of Manhattan alone were filed during the final days of the month.

In 115 of the leading cities of the country, representing more than 50 per cent of the country's population, the total estimated value of building permits, issued and applied for in December, exceeded $160,900,000, the survey of S. W. Strauss & Co. shows.

Thruout December the ratio of construction for residential buildings was about 37 per cent of all types of structures. Sixty-two cities reported gains for the year of $2,000,000 or more. Chicago topped the list with a reported gain of $102,700,000; Philadelphia, $72,300,000; New York, $52,400,000; Los Angeles, $38,-
000,000; Detroit, $36,500,000; Boston, $32,400,000; San Francisco, $24,000,000 and twenty-three others made gains exceeding $5,- 000,000.

The total value of building permits issued in the United States for December was in excess of $250,000,000 and for the entire year approximately $3,828,000,- 000.

GOLF ASSOCIATION HELD ANNUAL SESSION

Robert McKinlay, Cook County Golf Enthusiast, Told of Growth of Municipal Courses

—Officers of Local Association Re-Elected—

—Tournament Committee Reviews Work

About two hundred people were in attendance Thursday evening at the annual meeting of the local Municipal Golf association. This was the largest and most enthusiastic meeting in the history of the association. The audience listened to an interesting address by Robert W. McKinlay, president of the Cook County Municipal Golf association and member of the Cook County board of commissioners.

Mr. McKinlay told of the growth of the popularity of municipal golf in the larger cities of the country, and especially in Chicago. He said in part:

"If the people had more opportunity to play golf, the cause of democracy would be greatly aided. If employer and employee had more chance to get acquainted on the golf links, the problems arising from capital and labor would be the more easily solved. Municipal golf courses are increasing in popularity. During the last last season, 107,000 people played on the Lincoln park course in Chicago, which is a nine hole course; while on three 18-hole courses at one of the private clubs, the players numbered only 60,000.

Cities Growth of Golf.

"In Cook county the state has set aside 24,000 acres as forest preserves. In this big tract there is much open land, and thru the influence of the golf enthusiasts, the board of commissioners is gradually establishing municipal golf links on this land. At Pay-liss Hill, an old Indian burial ground, there is one of the finest courses in the county, a rolling course with some of the best and sportiest shots that a golfer could wish. Here the board has erected at a cost of $70,000 a splendid and thoroughly equipped golf shelter, with showers, rest rooms and on the second floor an observation room from which spectators can watch five sets of players on action on the links.

"When Gene Sarazen, the American Golf champion, came to Chicago on December 26 for a public exhibition, I determined to hold a luncheon in his honor. There was not time to send out invitations to members of the association; but I called together a committee of twelve live wires, and on the day after Christmas, with the short time for preparation and announcement, there were 319 persons at the banquet served in the ball room of the La-Salle hotel. At the speaker's table were a number of the most prominent golfers and business men of the city and even of the nation. This shows what a hold golf is getting in the cities.

"I have never yet heard of a crime being concocted on a golf course. You are wondering how to keep the young people in the straight and narrow path, how to help them lead clean lives and develop healthy bodies. Give them more municipal golf courses and let them play golf."

Election Held.

In the election of officers of the local association for the ensuing year, the same officers were unanimously voted back into their positions. They are:

President—Felix E. Farrell.
Vice President—T. A. Chapin.
Secretary-Treasurer—Marcy W. Osborne.

A vote of thanks was extended by the association to the park board, and to Jack Keywood, the professional instructor; J. H. Hopper, Jimmie Sample, in charge of the fairways; Howard Curtis, greensman; Clifton McGraw, starter, and Cole Rowe, chairman of the greens committee, for their services and their devotion to their various duties during the past season.

C. Y. Rowe, W. G. Goebel and T. A. Chapin were appointed a committee to investigate the matter of retaining Jack Keywood as professional instructor during the coming season, and to plan means of financing the services of a professional for the association. The closing feature of the meeting was a motion instructing the chairman to appoint a committee to launch a movement to organize a central Illinois municipal golf association. This plan has been under consideration for some time and met with the hearty support of the membership of the association. J. W. Hubble, Clifford Alves and Harrison King were placed on this committee.

Reports read at the meeting showed that 8,057 persons left their signatures on the starter's register on the local links last season. The association closed the year with a balance of $105 in the treasury. Receipts were $2,889 and disbursements were $2,783.

Chick Evans' Message.

A telegram from Chick Evans, one of the greatest golf players in the world and former amateur open champion of the United States, was read before the association. It is as follows:

"Regret that I am not well enough to be with you Thursday night. Am glad, however, that Mr. McKinlay, who is perhaps the greatest friend of municipal golf in the country, will be there to tell you what Chicago has done and hopes to do in that line. Public golf provides wholesome amusement for a larger part of the people than any other game, and is still just in its infancy. Perhaps it will occupy a more important place in the smaller cities than in the larger cities. My congratulations to Jacksonville on the place it is taking in the great profession that leads to health and happiness."

"Chick Evans."

The following splendid report of the Tournament Committee for the season of 1922 was read at the meeting of the association:

Twelve matches and contests were staged by this committee during the 1922 season, all of which were successful, and which were participated in by more than 500 people all told. The work of your committee was intended to give the public a chance to see good exhibitions of the game of golf and thus increasing interest in the game and quality of play.

It was much easier for the committee to accomplish results on account of having in Jacksonville, a professional in charge of the course who was an excellent player and who represented this city in various matches in creditable fashion.

May 7th, 1922—The first match was the opening of course for the season which took place on May 7th, 1922. This match was a four ball foursome with the following players: Osborne and Flood vs. Masters and Keywood. This contest was witnessed by many spectators and resulted in a victory for Masters and Keywood.

June 15, 1922—The ladies' handicap tournament took place on June 15th and 16th. This tournament was won by Mrs. A. R. Gregory and Miss Ruth Brown was runner-up.

June 17-18—The annual men's handicap tournament was played on June 17th and 18th. This tournament was won by Marcy Osborne with a score of 76 scratch. Dr. Clamit was second with a score of 78, and Wilbur Jeffries, third with a score of 84.

June 23—An approaching and putting contest in which 43 players participated was held on July 23rd. This proved to be one of the most interesting of the season and was won by Dr. Dinsmore.

July 30—Jacksonville played Springfield on our local course on July 30th. The visiting players were from Burr park municipal course and Jacksonville won seven up. Osborne, Flood, Masters and Keywood represented Jacksonville, while Springfield was represented by Walter S. Reed, John T. Conlon, B. W. Tigra and Norman Walton.

Jacksonville players made a fine showing in this match and were immediately invited to play a return match in Springfield, but which was later cancelled owing to the absence of Mr. Walton from that city.

Aug. 6.—Great interest was shown in the driving contest which was held on August 6th. Sixty-two players engaged in this and the winner was Justus Wright, whose total yardage on five balls was 874 yards. Sherman Lorand was second with 833 yards. Clifford Alves, third with 815 yards.

Sept. 2.—On Sept. 2nd, was held the ladies city championship. This was won by Miss Ruth Brown.

Sept. 4.—The men's city championship was held on Sept. 4th and was witnessed by the largest crowd ever on the Municipal links in this city. Hundreds of people following the players in the semi-finals and finals. Semi-finals were played as follows: Joe McGinnis vs. Justus Wright; Leo Flood vs. Art Masters. The winners were Wright and Flood who staged a battle royal for the championship, which went to Leo Flood.

Sept. 4th.—The consolation tournament was run in connection with the city championship, terminated on Sept. 4, being won by T. M. Beadles with F. M. Farrell runner-up.

Sept. 5th.—On Sept. 5th was held the annual field day for the address. This was participated in by 33 of the best who acted as caddies during the season. For down right interest and good sportsmanship, the match was most interesting of the season. The day was given over for enjoyment of lads who had worked hard during the year. Some of the caddy players showed the bolder people some unusually fine golf. A medal contest of nine holes was played, the 9th being placed in two classes. A 3rd S. Class A was won by Mitchell and Class B was won by Glee Gardner. New sets of clubs went to both the boys who won their respective classes. The approaching and putting contest was won by a doctor who was also presented with new clubs.

Oct. 4.—A flag or tombstone contest was played off on Oct. 4th. This proved a very unique event. The players being handicapped and given a number of strokes to pay. When they had played the number of strokes allotted to them, they set a flag in the ground and wrote an epitaph upon it. Two prizes were offered, one for men and one for women. The men's prize was won by John Walbridge and the ladies' prize by Mrs. Paul Moriarity.

In addition to the above, another contest which drew a large crowd of spectators was that played by Burgess and Gregory vs. Masters and Keywood. Mr. Frank Burgess stopped in this city on his return from Quincy where he engaged in a hard play in the Central-Western Golf association tournament in which he was runner up. This proved to be one of the closest meets of the season and one with large amount of interest.

Your committee has made plans for next season which are even more extensive in way of contests on local links. Negotiations are being made with Jimmie Weager, Harlem Country club, Chicago, Ill., for the opening of the season. Mr. Weager is one of the crack golfers of Mid-Western and no doubt will give an exhibition here that will be far superior to any yet held. Many other contests are in prospect for 1923.

Our thanks are due for the co-operation of the Park Board and Mr. J. H. Hopper, superintendent of the park, for their efforts in assisting the work of this committee. The course was in good condition at all times for matches. The encouragement of such clean outdoor athletics provided not only amusement, but healthful exercises for a large number of citizens during the year.

DEFENSE IN HERRIN TRIAL COMPLETES CHAIN OF EVIDENCE

Will Try to Impeach Testimony of State Witnesses Today.

(By the Associated Press)

MARION, Ill., Jan. 11.—The defense in the Herrin riot trial today completed its chain of evidence designed to prove positive alibis for all of the five defendants and announced that it expects to rest its case after an effort to impeach the testimony given by several of the state's witnesses tomorrow.

Thirteen witnesses testified regarding the movements of Bert Grace and Peter Hiller the morning of June 22, when twenty non-union workers from the Lester "strip" mine were slain.

Two other witnesses, William Goodman, a farmer and Dr. O. F. Shipman of Herrin, who had previously testified for the state, were recalled to the stand to pave the way for an effort to impeach their testimony.

Contradicting the testimony of witnesses for the prosecution who testified that Hiller shot one of the ten non-union men killed before a barbed wire fence a mile outside of Herrin, and that Grace had been in a nearby woods where four bodies were found and also at the cemetery where six prisoners were shot defense witnesses asserted that neither could have taken part in the tragedy.

Barrett it is said has been quarrelling with the Pembertons for some time and threatening to do them bodily injury. Charles Settles who is also a resident of the neighborhood said that a woman had come from Roodhouse yesterday to see him about acting as housekeeper. Settles was not at home and it is said the woman went to Barrett's home and asked his housekeeper Mrs. Anna Beall if she could wait there until Settles' arrival.

It is said that when Barrett came home he immediately took quite a fancy to the stranger and wanted to discharge Mrs. Beall and hire the new woman. The police were unable to locate this woman who evidently became alarmed at Barrett's actions and returned to Roodhouse last night.

Neighbors said that Barrett recently became angered at one of his cows and shot it and in various ways has shown himself to be under a high nervous strain.

The murdered woman has been employed at Jacksonville State hospital and was the sole support of her husband who has been totally blind for a great many years.

The police stated last night that Barrett was unable to talk with any coherency and are of the opinion that he is off mentally. They were unable to convince him last night that he had killed Mrs. Pemberton.

CONGREGATIONALISTS PROJECT ACTIVITIES

Meeting of Group Heads Decides on Forum Series — Discusses Entertainment of Young Peoples' Association, and Bringing of Lincoln Biographer.

Important plans for the coming months were discussed at a cabinet meeting of representatives of various organizations of the Congregational church, held at 7:30 o'clock Thursday evening. The group meets once in two months as a means of co-ordinating and improving the work of the church.

The question of a forum series was discussed, and it was decided to have a series of addresses by speakers of note on Sunday evenings during the months of February and March, following the plan of other years.

The matter of entertainment of the young people's conference of the Springfield association of the Congregational church on February 16 and 17, was discussed. The Springfield association includes many of the cities and towns of Central Illinois, and the local Young People's society will make extensive arrangements for their entertainment.

It is the joint plan of the church, Illinois college and the Morgan County Historical association to bring to the city W. E. Barton, D. D. of Oak Park, perhaps the leading living authority on Lincoln. This plan received a share of the discussion of the meeting. Dr. Barton has written a book called "The Heart of Lincoln," and is now writing a "Life of Lincoln," and his writings are considered authoritative. He will be here February 7.

WHAT WITHDRAWAL OF TROOPS MEANS

(By The Associated Press)

COBLENZ, Jan. 11.—(By The Associated Press.)—The departure of the American troops from the Rhineland will, it is considered here, mean more than the withdrawal from European soil of that great and gallant body which determined the course of the world war. It was remarked here today that the home going of the Americans will mean severance by the United States of its direct relations growing out of the war. It is understood, however, that Major Henry T. Allen, the American commanding officer may remain here in the double capacity of liquidator of the affairs of the American forces in Germany and unofficial member of the inter-allied Rhineland high commission but thus far he is without instructions.

Nichols, Tombstone, Ariz.; Captain Clemm Kirby, Brownsville, Texas; Miss Lucy Sturtevant, Kushla, Ala.; Miss S. M. QUINCY AFTER MOLINE'S FRANCHISE

CHICAGO Jan. 11.—Formal application of the Quincy, Illinois Fans' association for a franchise in the Three I League, together with a certified check for $2,000 was received by President Tarmey tonight.

The $2,000 was posted as a guarantee that the club would finish the season. Robert F. Gunther, newly elected president of the Quincy Fans' association, assured President Tarmey that a new baseball park would be built and every effort made to place a strong team in the field.

Quincy wants the franchise held by Moline.

Backers of the Moline club how over, are determined to retain it and have arranged to forward its guarantee by Saturday.

FLETCHER CONFERS
WITH CLUB OFFICIALS

Philadelphia, Jan. 11.—Arthur Fletcher, new manager of the Philadelphia National League Baseball team arrived here today from his home in Collinsville, Ill., to confer with President William F. Baker and Business Manager William Shetline regarding club policies.

Fletcher said he expected to remain in the city about three days.

AGREEMENT IS
"SCRAP OF PAPER"

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Jan. 11.—The agreement between the major and minor leagues restricting the drafting of players was characterized today by William H. McCarthy, president of the Pacific Coast League as a "scrap of paper" as a result of a recent pact between the majors which according to McCarthy extends the drafting privilege beyond the scope of the major-minor agreement.

McCarthy based his statement upon a telegraphed interpretation of the major's pact from Kenesaw K. Landis, high commissioner of baseball and Commissioner Landis' decision that the majors were justified in making such a pact.

"The minor leagues of this country, approximately twenty-five have been humbugged, deluded, deceived and cheated by the two major leagues," the statement said. "And the pity of it is that this has been done with the knowledge, consent and approval of the new Moses as the high commissioner who was to lead professional baseball into a new land of promise."

"Promises yes, that is what the minor leagues have been fed. At Louisville, Commissioner Landis brought the convention of minor leagues cheering to its feet with the statement that, draft or no draft the major-minor agreement would be lived up to the letter, until 1927, the year when he is supposed to retire. Less than a month later he rendered this decision absolutely nullifying the major-minor agreement."

"The man whose proudest boast and claim to fame was that he had fined the Standard Oil company $29,000,000 was not big enough nor courageous enough to tell his over-fed and over-prosperous employers that a contract is a contract binding upon both parties and that they would have to live up to their part of it."

WILL DONIE BUSH
CONTINUE GAMBLING

It will be rather interesting to note what attitude Donie Bush will take on the gambling question now that he is a major league manager.

As a mere ball player, one of Bush's favorite amusements was playing poker to kill the time. At African golf he also shook a mean pair of ivories.

Not only is Bush a good card player, but he is also looked on as a very lucky individual. They do say that one year Bush made a regular cleanup as a member of the Detroit team.

That year African golf was in high favor with the Tigers, and the only numbers Bush knew were seven and eleven. The next year Owner Navin put the ban on the dice game.

Very often when a player who likes cards becomes manager, he immediately shuts down on the card game—for high stakes, at least. He knows the ill-feeling it can make.

Either Bush will go along as he did as a player—mix in with the boys as if he were one of them, and continue in the card games—or else he will put the ban on gambling for anything other than small stakes, which, in a way, usually kills it off.

It is a well-known fact that ball clubs that play but little cards are usually winning teams. There was little card playing on Mack's pennant-winning clubs.

Playing cards merely as an amusement is all right, but when the stakes get so big that the players feel the losses suffered, then gambling works to the detriment of a team's success by stirring up ill-feeling and enmity.

Track King Scores
Speed Maniacs

Jimmy Murphy, the World's Greatest Auto Driver, Warns Street Speedster

JIMMY MURPHY

By Jack Jungmeyer
LOS ANGELES, Dec. 30.—

Jimmy Murphy, fastest man on wheels, has no patience with the streets speedster who is piling up frightful national toll.

"Much reckless," he says, with his verbal cut-out open, "is the sheer, deadly vanity of the man who steps on the gas because he wants the world of his passenger to see what a virile and masterful fellow he is."

"Nine cases out of ten, he's mutton-headed rather than masterful."

This thoughtful, self-controlled, genial little Irish-American cut his eye teeth on racing tires and his wisdom molars on track accidents. No one would accuse him of being faint-hearted, but he attributes his laurels to a degree of caution of which the average driver would be ashamed.

Forget the Bravado.

"The fellow who has an impulse toward bravado," said Jimmy, "had better overhaul his mental machinery, especially if he's sitting at a steering wheel."

"Of course, every race driver knows the seductions of the siren, inciting him to carelessness. That's one of the temptations we have constantly to fight, especially during the early laps and brushes when you're almost drunk with exhilaration. There is such a thing as excessive speed even in places dedicated to speed.

"But there's no place to teach you the value of rigid self-discipline like the speed bowl, where even with the utmost precaution your chances of life and death are almost even. I've seen many crashes and have figured in several, and I have come to have a high respect for danger. It fairly makes my skin crawl to see the chances taken by your swaggering driver of the boulevards."

Murphy, holder of the French Grand Prix at 28, had just added the 250-mile Beverly Hills, Cal., classic to his five notable victories of the season, breaking his own and world's previous record for the distance with an average of 114 6-10 miles per hour.

Jimmy's Irish heart yearns for a green car, but he won't drive in that color because too many of his friends have come to grief in emerald machines.

It's just one more way of emphasizing his refusal to take a chance when chances seem unnecessary. And so he's forced to win his races in an orange-blond car, much to the disgust of that uncle from Erin with whom he lives.

LIBRARY CIRCULATION
SHOWS INCREASE

An increase of $75 over a year ago is shown in the December total circulation of the public library here, the figure being 7,965. This is about 11 per cent increase during the year, and shows a proportional increase over last month. Reference work showed 55,000 calls and unusually heavy figure. New borrowers totaled 95, and the total number of books on the shelves is 33,785. According to members of the board of directors at whose meeting the figures were presented, this indicates a growing importance of the library in the community.

DOPE ON TWO WILD MEN OF
AMERICAN LEAGUE

Official pitching averages of the American League furnish an interesting sidelight to the argument on the trade that Detroit and Boston put through at the close of the season and which takes Howard Ehmke to Boston and brings "Rip" Collins to Detroit.

Collins and Ehmke lead the league in passing batsmen. Collins walked 103 and Ehmke passed 101. Collins has a wider edge on Ehmke than the figures indicate for he pitched in less games. These two pitchers are the only hurlers who passed 100 or more batsmen.

Ehmke worked in 45 games, winning 17 and losing the same number, for a total of 34, although he is credited with pitching but 13 complete games.

Collins pitched in 32 games, won 14, lost 11, and had 15 completed games.

Collins allowed an average number of 3.75 earned runs per game and Ehmke allowed 4.21.

Collins won eight of his last nine games and scored six victories in succession.

Mr. and Mrs. George W. Lewis of Sinclair transacted business here Thursday.

WHY STAY FAT?
YOU CAN REDUCE

The answer of most fat people is that it is too hard, too troublesome and too dangerous to force the weight down. Marmola Prescription Tablets overcome all these difficulties. FORMER WINCHESTER MAN DIES IN TULSA

Death of Ernest Glossup Occurred in Oklahoma Wednesday—Other Items From Winchester.

Winchester, Jan. 11.—The community was shocked and saddened Thursday by news of the death of Ernest Glossup in Tulsa, Okla. The deceased was the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Glossup, residing northwest of Winchester, and until a few years since was a resident of this community.

Mr. Glossup attended the Winchester public schools and later graduated from the high school with the class of 1914. Subsequently he graduated from the Gem City Business College at Quincy and still later was a student at Normal University. He taught school for one year at Eureka, later teaching for two years at Manchester and at the beginning of his second term of teaching at the Clinton school entered the army service. He spent nineteen months in the army, eight months of which was in overseas service.

For several years past Mr. Glossup had held a responsible position as assistant secretary of the loan department of the Tulsa Trust Co.

The deceased was of exceptionally fine character and was one of the most promising young men whom Winchester has sent out into the world. He was a member of the Baptist church here and while a Winchester resident was active in various departments of church work.

Surviving are the father and mother, one sister, Miss Mary, and five brothers: Oscar, Harry, Tom and Frank, all living at home, and George Glossup, residing in Tulsa. There are also a number of other relatives. Mrs. Glossup and son Oscar left Wednesday for Tulsa after the receipt of a message telling of the serious illness of the son and brother. The message telling of his death came after their departure.

The remains are to arrive Friday morning over the 11:17 train and the funeral services will be held at 2:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon from the Baptist church. The services will be in charge of a former pastor, Rev. Mr. Toomey.

Once Friend of Kaiser, Now Runs Toy Shop

ALVO VON ALVENSLEBEN (INSET) AND HIS SEATTLE DOLL AND TOY SHOP.

By NFA Service.

Seattle, Jan. 4.—Alvo von Alvensleben, son of one of the proudest families of Prussia, who had millions a few years ago and who was reported to be the personal friend and agent of the kaiser, today is running a little toy store here.

After remaining in obscurity since his release from Fort Douglas, Utah, where he was interned, Von Alvensleben suddenly made his reappearance in Seattle and, advertised by the newspaper stories about his spectacular past, is doing a rushing business.

Von Alvensleben's career rivals anything in fiction. Born in a family identified with the German nobility since 1756, he was brought up in the military caste and was an officer in the German army.

Defies Tradition.
He defied tradition, resigned his commission and came to this country in 1904. After working as a common laborer around Vancouver, B. C., two years, he made a "stake" and plunged into land speculations. He made millions.

For years he was the social leader of Vancouver. He had a mansion that rivaled old world castles. He was attended by huge retinues of servants. He operated a whole fleet of expensive automobiles. He supported a stable of polo ponies.

Then came the war. Von Alvensleben came to the United States, but ugly rumors followed him and wrecked his business. The story was generally printed that he was slated to be governor-general of Canada—if the kaiser won. And he was certainly intimate with the German embassy.

Interned Three Years.
Von Alvensleben was interned and kept in captivity three years. He lost what remained of his fortune—either through confiscation or because of unpaid taxes.

Finally released, he had just $51—but he went into business at once as an exporter and importer and was successful in a modest way.

He was still a plunger. He put his entire capital into a cargo of German Christmas goods. He would have realized handsomely—if the shipment hadn't been delayed—arriving too late for Christmas.

That resulted in his decision to enter the retail trade—and he's making a success of it. The graces which he once displayed at the German court are now showered upon the humble housewives of Seattle—and they like it.

WHY PARIS DRESSES COST MUCH MONEY

Madame Paquin, One of Paris' Leading Makers, Express Self On Subject.

Paris. — "Why do women's dresses cost so much?" This eternal man's question was put to Madame Jeanne Paquin, and her cryptic answer was: "They don't."

For 33 years Madame Paquin has been making dresses in Paris for the wealthy from all parts of the world. It may be that her idea of what is expensive has been influenced by the class of trade which automobiles up to her doors, but nevertheless her answer was the sincere expression of a business woman. For in the next breath she said: "Or rather, dresses do not cost the buyer so much, when it is considered what they cost the producer."

Madame Paquin employs about 900 people, and turns out 4,000 dresses a year. About 25 out of every hundred of her gowns have to be discarded because they are not properly made. This accounts in part for the high cost of those that are marketed.

"To obtain an art product, there must be waste," Madame Paquin explained. "A painter may make many sketches before he finally reaches the creation that is called art. It is the same way with dresses. I employ people who do nothing but sit around and criticize our dresses, and if a given dress doesn't satisfy them, a new one must be made for the client. Those people must be paid. Some of them get a hundred thousand francs a year. There are only a few people who can engage in the profession of beautifying women with clothes. These few must be paid accordingly."

"Women object to the high cost as much as men. It is a mistake to think women like to pay high prices for their dresses. You can tell all the husbands that women dispute their bills to the last penny."

"How much does it cost to dress a woman well for a year?" Madame Paquin was asked.

"There were many women who spent a hundred thousand francs a year before the war on their dresses, and if they did this now their bills would run to a half million," said Madame Paquin. "But I believe, for the average woman who can afford to dress in such houses as mine, that 50 thousand francs a year would do it, giving her about 15 dresses a year. This would give her in each season about four dresses, one for the street, one for sport, one for evening, and one for afternoon receptions. Add what is

MARK ARIE WINS OVER W. C. WARREN

PINEHURST, N. C., Jan. 11.—Mark Arie of Champaign, Illinois, world's champion trapshooter and W. C. Warren, of Chicago, each won a major event in the annual mid-winter trapshooting tournament today.

Arie defeated Warren in a shootout of 25 targets for the championship of the 450 target high average trophy, which they had tied for yesterday at 435 in the final string of 50. Arie shot a perfect 25 and Warren missed after hitting 24 straight.

Warren won the preliminary handicap trophy with a total of 94 defeating a field of 72 by the margin of four. He shot from the 23 yard line and became the first maximum distance man to win the handicap since it was inaugurated in 1908.

CONSTABLES SEIZE STILL ON POGUE FARM

The complete equipment of a still was found at the farm home of Virgil Pogue east of the city Thursday when Constables Harley Adams and W. Shephardson raided the premises. A pint of liquor was taken as evidence by the officers.

The Pogue residence has been under suspicion for some time and the search made Thursday was under orders of State's Attorney Robinson. A part of the equipment was found in a closet and the rest in an upstairs room.

It was the statement of State's Attorney Robinson that a watch is being kept of other homes and that still further raids may be expected in the course of a week or two.

ILLINOIS COLLEGE WILL PLAY CARTHAGE

Illinois Will Remember Football Game Last Fall and Fight For Revenge—Both Teams Have Victory to Their Credit.

Tonight at 8:30 in the David Prince gymnasium the Illinois College basketball team will play the second game of the season when Carthage College comes to the local floor. The Illinois men have not forgotten the drubbing received in the opening game of football last fall when the Carthage team whitewashed the Illinois players 10 to 0. As a result they are out to wipe out that defeat tonight.

Both teams have played and won one game. Illinois defeated the Eastern Illinois State Teachers College on the local floor last Monday night by 33 to 22. Last Tuesday night Carthage trounced the Burlington Junior College 22 to 13. Since Illinois College has never competed with the Burlington school nothing is known here of their strength and so no satisfactory estimate of the Carthage strength can be made.

The Illinois team should show some improvement: In team work tonight over that of last Monday night. Greater accuracy in hitting the basket should also be displayed in this evening's game.

Capt. Mellon will start at center and if he is working as well as he was Monday night he will make an interesting evening for the Carthage boys. It is a toss-up as to whether Dale and Elder or Hiatt and Gobel will start at forwards. The latter pair played the floor well in the Monday night game but they were not scoring. Hiatt got two field goals but Gobel did not ring up a counter.

Butler, who played a creditable game at back guard against the Teachers has not been feeling well all week and probably will not play tonight. Gard, Arter, Hoskins, George and Underwood are available for the place. The last four are freshmen and are husky boys.

Jack Roberts seems to have the call for floor guard but Struck and Harris and Martin are right on his heels.

An inter-class game between the Juniors and Sophomores will be played as a curtain raiser, beginning at 7:30.

Owing to inability to accommodate the many who desired to see "When Knighthood Was in Flower," the picture will be shown at THE RIALTO again today at 2 and 7:30 o'clock.

ALCOHOL MENACES FRANCE-COMMISSION

Paris.—What France should do with her excess alcohol has become one of the burning industrial and national problems in the republic. While France has no prohibition movement under way, she is seriously troubled by the economic aspect of an excess production of wine, and especially alcohol.

A senate commission reported recently on the problem. It commented on prohibition in the United States; pointed out that France's liquor and wine exports had been reduced by such prohibition, and then made the flat statement that there could be no question as to the desirability in France of reducing the human consumption of alcohol, that alcohol today was a national danger to the republic.

Seeking ways to meet the economic difficulties presented by the actual situation, the commission insisted that the surplus production of alcohol be used nationally as a fuel by mixing it with benzine, gasoline and other like substances in proportions ranging from ten per cent up.

It is proposed to run automobiles, locomotives and factories with this mixture, and at the same time save part of the money now spent abroad for coal and other oil fuels. Many experiments have been made, and large prizes offered, for the best mixture.

The principal factors in the alcohol problem are that there is possibly a smaller consumption of alcohol in drinking because of increased prices and that France produces far more alcohol than she can herself normally consume. It is argued that the human consumption of alcohol may be further reduced if better use for the product are found.

However, it is pointed out that nearly three-fourths of France's population gains its livelihood, directly or indirectly, through alcohol, whether the people are engaged in agriculture or in commerce.

France, the report shows, is now producing an average of a billion gallons of wine and alcohol yearly, out of which is obtained an annual internal revenue of about a billion francs, with export values of upwards of half a billion francs yearly.

The commission reached the conclusion that one way to reduce drinking would be to increase the taxes on wines and liquors. France has been drinking more and more, for a hundred years, because beverages were so cheap. Fifty years ago the daily per capita consumption was one and one half quarts, today it is three quarts.

The final conclusion of the commission is that France's 22,000,000 gallons of pure alcohol, produced from grain, beet sugar and molasses, should be diverted from certain present uses, including human consumption, to general use as a fuel.

CULLY'S ASSAILANT CONFESSES CRIME

LEROY HICKS FIRED SHOT AT GARAGE MAN.

Arrested in Galesburg Where He Fled Following Shooting—Fells Local Authorities Details of Attack—Placed in Morgan County Jail and Then Removed to Another County.

LeRoy Hicks, alias Carl Jones, the colored youth who shot Elmer Cully early last Tuesday morning at the Zahn garage, is under arrest and has made a full confession of the crime. Hicks was apprehended in Galesburg and was brought to Jacksonville early Thursday morning by Chief of Police Kiloran and Patrolman Williams.

At the police station, in the presence of these officers and others and of State's Attorney Carl E. Robinson, Hicks confessed his guilt and told the story of his assault on Cully. Shortly afterward the man was taken to the room of Mr. Cully at Our Savior's hospital and as he entered the door Mr. Cully in a low voice exclaimed: "That is the man."

Awaits Grand Jury Action
Subsequently Hicks was taken to State's Attorney's court on information filed by State's Attorney Robinson, and was bound over to await the action of the grand jury on a charge of assault with intent to kill. Still later the prisoner was lodged in the county jail and before night came Sheriff O. T. Wright, after consultation with State's Attorney Robinson, took the prisoner to another county. This action was as a precautionary measure because of the officials' knowledge of the strong feeling against the negro bandit by friends of Mr. Cully and others familiar with the details of the cowardly assault made upon him and which may still cost his life.

Hicks, according to his story, arrived in Jacksonville Monday on the C. & A. in company with Isaac Brown, who is still at large and Fred Bumpley who is at the county jail and was arrested as a suspect in the case Tuesday. The three men came from Mexico, Mo., and found a room at the home of Sam Hutchinson on West Lafayette avenue.

Hicks and Brown went to the Zahn garage with the intention of holding up the night man. After Hicks had told Cully to throw up his hands Hicks said that when Cully did not immediately comply he fired the shot from his revolver. Then as Cully, wounded, reached for the phone Hicks and his companion fled. They hid for some time in the C. & A. yards and then a roundabout way reached the Hutchinson home.

Arrested in Galesburg
Still later in the morning they made their get away and a short distance north of town they were able to climb aboard a C. B. and Q. coal train. Hicks claims that he was soon afterward separated from his companion and has not seen him since. Be that as it may, Hicks rode the coal train into Galesburg. Arriving there he fell asleep in the stairway of a building near the railroad yards, where a policeman stumbled on him and placed him under arrest. The prisoner was searched and a 45 calibre revolver with one chamber empty was found in his pocket. The young bandit had made no effort to disguise himself and was wearing a military overcoat, overalls and brown cap. Mr. Cully gave to the police a description of the clothing worn by his assailant.

Meanwhile the description had reached the Galesburg police and the fact of Hicks' arrest was communicated to the local department. Chief of Police Kiloran and Patrolman Williams received the message just in time to catch the 11:15 train north on the Burlington Wednesday morning. They reached Galesburg late in the afternoon and started back to Jacksonville on the 10:30 train, reaching this city after a stop over

Soldier Bonus Blanks at Local Red Cross

We will have a limited number for chapters, but if you need a large supply, we would advise that you write direct to the Service Recognition board at Springfield, stating the number of blanks which you will need. As you are undoubtedly aware, the application blanks are also being sent to the American Legion posts. Veterans of Foreign Wars, Spanish American War

Veterans' camps and county clerks.

"Application blanks for all heirs-at-law of deceased veterans will be furnished only upon request to the Service Recognition board, the applicant stating the relationship to the deceased veteran. This information will be necessary before the proper blank can be furnished, and it is suggested that you urge them to apply immediately.

FAVORITE LODGE HAS ROLL CALL

Knights of Pythias Observe Fourteenth Annual Roll Call Thursday Evening—Two Hundred Members Were Present.

Favorite Lodge No. 376 Knights of Pythias observed its fourteenth annual roll call in Castle hall Thursday evening. Two hundred members were present at the banquet held at 6 o'clock.

This was followed by the program with Carl E. Robinson as chairman of the evening. The roll was called by Jewell E. Scott, Master of Finance.

When the names of the members who died during the year, Allen Stewart, M. Raymond Smith, Rev. John W. Kettle and Albert F. Dowdall were read the members stood for one minute and Rev. W. E. Spoons offered prayer.

A long letter was read from Frank H. Shepherd and several other absent members also sent letters which were read.

Readings were given by Miss Jeanette Powell of the department of expression of Illinois Woman's college and Miss Lois Clark gave a vocal number with Miss Marie Luke as accompanist. These young ladies are students at the Woman's College. Brief remarks were made by several members from Jacksonville Lodge No. 152.

The present membership of the lodge is 502 and its affairs are in a prosperous condition. The committee in charge of the roll call was composed of L. F. Jordan, L. B. Turner and J. E. Scott.

Is of Low Mentality

The bandit claimed that his father and mother are dead and that his only near relative is his sister, resident in Denver. Physically he is heavily built and has the appearance of a person below the normal in mentality. He is without question of a brutal unreasoning type and manifests no feeling over the crime committed.

If Mr. Cully lives the strongest charge that can be made against Hicks is that of assault with intent to kill, the charge under which he is now held to the grand jury. If convicted under this charge the punishment possible is from one to fourteen years.

State's Attorney Robinson stated yesterday that he will ask for the assemblage of the grand jury at the February term of the circuit court, which is near at hand. He will also ask for a petty jury with the expectation that the Zachary case will be tried at this term.

Altho Hicks has confessed to the crime, under existing law it is not possible to send him to the penitentiary without his having first been indicted by a grand jury.

COMMITTEE REPORTS BEFORE C. OF C. DIRECTORS

The Thursday evening session of the directors of the Chamber of Commerce was devoted largely to consideration of reports from various departments and committees. R. Y. Rowe presided and practically all of the members of the board were in attendance. Secretary Welch presented reports of the progress made by the city plan commission and also some facts relative to the gift campaign and other affairs relating to the activities of the commercial division.

Henry Frisch, chairman of the hotel committee, was able to report considerable progress in the preliminary work with reference to this project. It is the expectation that within the course of a very few weeks the hotel project matter will be actively pushed and citizens requested to aid the enterprise by the purchase of stock.

It was stated also that an early session of the traffic committee is to be held and it is the expectation that at no distant date a report will be formulated showing the recommendations of the committee for the revision of the city traffic ordinance.

RECALLS EARLY DAYS OF ARMORY HALL

S. W. Nichols Gives Interesting Account of Early Incidents in Connection With Strawn's Opera House in this City.

The following letter has been written to the Journal by S. W. Nichols from Tombstone, Ariz. The recent fire which destroyed Armory Hall and other buildings on the south side of the square brought to the mind of Mr. Nichols many interesting facts with reference to the days when "Strawn's Opera House" as it was known, was the scene of many an important theatrical performance.

The letter is given below:

Tombstone, Arizona, Jan. 3, '22
Dear Journal:
The destruction of the armory hall block or buildings brings to mind many scenes and incidents of bygone days. Time was when Strawn's Hall was considered quite an imposing edifice. It was built much earlier than 1867, not far from 1860.

It was supplied with only a platform but on that platform many notable events took place. There it was that Governor Yates was welcomed back to Jacksonville by a large audience who heard a stirring address by Prest Sturtevant; there it was that Nilsson and her company sang.

That affair was managed pretty well. Beecher Glover was the main moving spirit in the whole affair. Fearful lest the undertaking prove a failure they sold tickets without an engagement with her and when they found they would succeed they said the concert was postponed, made a date and she came.

Once David Smith and some other enterprising lovers of music secured a concert by some famous musicians mainly from St. Louis and the affair was fine and well remember hearing some young men say they went in supposing it was some kind of a minstrel show and not only were they unable to appreciate the choice music but couldn't even stand it and left. How tastes differ.

Play For Illinois College

Then the dramatic impulse demanded a hearing and for the benefit of Illinois College a play was prepared. It was "The Serious Family," an unfortunate selection. At much trouble the platform was fitted with wings and stage accessories and the play was a success. Among the characters were Dr. Pitner, Julia Reed, C. H. Teneyck, Charles Edgar and others and the affair went off successfully.

Then the Phi Alpha needed money and again a play was chosen. That time Major George M. McConnell was stage manager and leading character. The play was "Still Waters Run Deep." Among the cast were Miss Ida Sawyer, Miss Jackson, a teacher in the public schools, Miss Annie Nichols, Col. W. H. and Charles Edgar. Major McConnell was a natural born leader and fine actor and the play was repeated to a good house.

But what a task to prepare the stage. Wings had to be made and covered with wall paper; a curtain prepared and worked with pulleys and ropes; flies of calico suspended from pieces across the stage and so on.

Later, under the same circumstances came the grandest success ever accomplished on that stage of a dramatic character up to that time. It was "London Assurance" in which Miss Osgood teacher at the State School for the Deaf, immortalized herself. Never have I seen in my large experience an amateur her superior. Ranking right with her were Misses Hattie and Eva Hammond, any one of whom would have risen to eminence on the professional stage.

What a time we did have with the play. Major McConnell was to take a leading part but in the midst of the rehearsals his father was murdered so the part was assigned to H. C. Hammond a teacher at the State School for the Deaf and he did it admirably.

Among the cast were Miss Kate Robb, handsome and capable; Miss Annie Nichol, C. H. Teneyck as the lawyer; E. L. McDonald, Robert D. Russell, Charles Edgar and others well known in those days.

The play was followed by a farce, "Perfection or the Maid of Munster" which was cast largely from the characters in the main play and Miss Lottie King was one of the stars in that number and how vividly I recall the rehearsals the preparation of the stage and the satisfaction over the receipts which were for good cause, the free reading room, I think.

Formed Regular Company
The people connected with that affair decided they liked the business and concluded to organize as a society which would continue the plays but it was too much work to fix up a stage every time so the third story of the Wolcott building was leased, the apartment now used by the Modern Woodmen, and a regular stage was constructed. William Benson painted the scenery and the opening night two small plays were put on. They were "To Oblige Benson" and "A Decided Case." The house was full and the organization seemed to be starting on a successful career.

Among the moving spirits in the organization were Dr. G. V. Black, Col. C. M. Morse and others. Major McConnell was president and stage manager and when he named S. W. Nichols for secretary and treasurer he said his act needed explanation and Col. Morse cautioned the major to see that the secretary didn't dun anybody for dues in prayer meeting. Several other plays were put on and among the members of the company was Frank I. McDonald, whose untimely death at an early age caused so much sorrow. Both his brothers were also included, Edward and Frederick, both noble souls. Then poor Charley Stewart had some important parts. Charley Edgar was a star in any role.

One night after my dear mother had retired I heard her laughing loudly and asked her what started her and she said she was thinking how comical Charley Edgar looked when he took that potato out of his pocket in the play and he could do anything he chose in a play.

Sol Smith Russell Gave Play
In Odeon hall, as we called it, Sol Smith Russell gave an entertainment before he had attained such wide celebrity as he afterwards enjoyed. He was a home product but he filled the hall to capacity.

Jacob Strawn was the owner of Strawn's Hall and when he saw the success of Odeon Hall he was moved to have constructed a regular stage in the hall and accordingly it was done and while the stage was small it was well supplied with a variety of scenery and stage accessories. The new opera house was opened by the Odeon hall club and "Fading Cloud" was the play. In this Miss Osgood was the leading star while Major McConnell, Col and Charles Edgar, H. C. Hammond had leading parts.

There were other grand amateur successes on that stage. Major McConnell immortalized himself in "Shylock" with Miss Mattie Morse. Miss Effie Epier, Fred McDonald and others in the cast.

Not long after that Major McConnell went to Chicago and the presidency of the dramatic club fell to the writer and a number of plays entertained the people of the town. Among them was "Nicholas Nickleby" for the benefit of the reading room and "Pickwick." In the latter we had in the cast Miss Hattie Hammond, Miss Ellen Hammond, a queenly appearing lady and cousin of Miss Hattie. Also Judge Whitlock, J. O. King, Major Callon and other local celebrities and I remember handing over to Mrs. J. H. Bancroft as the net result of the affair $296.10.

A little later came another grand amateur dramatic triumph, "The Lady of Lyons" in which Miss Hattie Hammond covered herself with glory. Frank Greenleaf played the part of Claude Melnotte while other parts were capably taken by W. S. Phillips, Grant Cullimore and Miss Allie Duckett.

The Bohemian Girl
It was in 1877 that the greatest musical amateur event the city had known up to that time took place, the opera of the Bohemian Girl under the auspices and by the faculty and students of the conservatory of music. Miss Carrie Whittlesy took the part of Arline, Mr. Smith, non-resident student Thaddeus, another man whose name I have forgotten had Devilshoof, Miss Carrie Deitrich, Queen and George N. Loomis, Count.

Col. Duff, a retired professional residing in Quincy, was engaged as stage manager and the affair was a grand success. We took it to Quincy and Springfield and in each place enjoyed a regular vocation. Never shall I forget the eloquent address of appreciation delivered by Elisha B. Hamilton in Quincy at the close of the performance.

"Pinafore" was another amateur success with W. S. Phillips as "Commander," Miss "Dim" Rutledge as Commodore's niece, Miss Kate Sawyer as "Buttercup," Oliver Mason as "Dead Eye," Hugh Smith as "Captain."

I am a little loath to mention the second rendering of "The Bohemian Girl" tho it went off very well with one exception. Miss Kate Smith, now Miss Harry Dummer, ably prepared the part of Arline but not being very strong the management failed to be as saving of her as they should in rehearsals and when the night of the performance came she was unable to sing.

I shall not try to describe the scenes that took place behind the curtain. John Johnson capably took the part of Florentine. I think is the name and when he appeared and said "The jig's up; Katie can't sing," our spirits went down till we were out of sight. The opera went on with Mrs. Brothersick singing the part of Arline in the wings.

I can't refrain from mentioning another little incident. After the performance in Quincy the papers there gave a handsome notice of the affair and devoted a paragraph to each of the principals. Prof. Sanders cut these out and instead of pasting them on a sheet of paper as a newspaper man would have done he handed them loose to the editor of the Courier and George Loomis' name didn't appear.

He was absolutely furious and no possible explanation or apology from Prof. Sanders would be accepted till an investigation showed that one of the most careful compositors in the office let fall to the floor the paragraph relating to George.

A great deal more occurs to my mind but perhaps it will not be so interesting to the readers of the Journal as to myself.

It determines failure or success in baking, more than any other ingredient.

If you do not always have satisfactory bakings, change to Calumet for just one trial.

It is pure: containing only such ingredients as have been officially approved by U. S. Food Authorities.

Within the Calumet factories—the largest and most sanitary on earth—hundreds of skilled workers clad in white are busily engaged in producing the baking powder that is used by millions. Human hands never touch it. Its sale is 2½ times as much as that of any other brand. Pure in the making—pure in the baking.

RED CROSS HAS NEW SECRETARY

Miss Martha Sullivan will Take Up Work as Executive Secretary Saturday—Succeeds Miss Forward.

Miss Martha Sullivan has been announced by the board of directors of the Morgan County Chapter of the Red Cross, as the new executive secretary. Miss Sullivan will arrive in the city tomorrow and will assume her position at once. The new secretary comes to Jacksonville to fill the vacancy made by the resignation of Miss Katherine Forward, who left the position in this county to take up work as liaison officer in the Red Cross headquarters in Springfield.

The central division office of the Red Cross, with headquarters in Chicago, has selected Miss Sullivan for the Jacksonville post. Owing to the fact that the Red Cross work in this city is almost entirely made up of activities concerning the exservice men at the Jacksonville state hospital and Oak Lawn sanitarium, the central division of the Red Cross pays one-half of the salary of the executive secretary. For this reason the appointment of Miss Sullivan comes direct from the

HIGH SCHOOL BAND TO MAKE ITS APPEARANCE

First Public Appearance at Basketball Between Waverly and Jacksonville Tomorrow Evening.

The Jacksonville high school band will make its initial appearance Saturday night at the Jacksonville-Waverly basketball game at the David Prince gymnasium. The band will furnish music before the game and between halves. This is the first time that the band has appeared in public, and it is planned that the organization shall furnish music at all the basketball games during the season.

The new Jacksonville high school band includes forty pieces and is conducted by Mr. May of the high school faculty. The band members have been working hard since the organization of the band early in the fall. They have acquired an excellent repertoire of music suitable for all occasions and their appearance at the basketball games will no doubt put lots of pep into the contests.

The band members have been playing together for a considerable length of time and the organization has done splendid work. The band will play at the district tournament in March and will add greatly to the success of the event. This is the first time Jacksonville high school has had a band for about five years and a great deal of interest and enthusiasm is being shown in the organization.

Household goods of Lucille Fountain will be sold, at Strawn's Garage, 220 West Court St., today, Jan. 12, at 1 p. m. Be there.

JACKSONVILLE GETS DISTRICT TOURNNEY

Principal Kaiser of the Jacksonville high school has received a letter from the board of control of the Illinois High School Athletic association, stating that if the local high school will undertake the management, the district basketball tournament will be held in Jacksonville this year. The dates assigned for the tournament are March 1, 2 and 3, and high schools from all over the Jacksonville district will come here to compete for honors.

Jacksonville has accepted the tournament and plans will begin at once for the event. The district basketball tournament is always one of the most important athletic events in Jacksonville and brings crowds of students to the city. The terms of the management for the tournament are to be practically the same as in previous years, the principal of the Jacksonville high school assuming the general management of the affair.

DEMAND FOR CASH WHEAT GOOD THURSDAY

Market Report

WAR POSSIBILITIES BOOSTS WHEAT
CHICAGO, Jan. 11.—Uneasiness over trans-Atlantic war possibilities and as to the domestic winter crop outlook led to a fresh upturn today in the price of wheat. The market closed firm, 1½¢ to 1½¢ higher with May $1.20½ to $1.20½ and July $1.13½ to $1.13½.

Corn gained ½¢ to ½¢, oats 1 to 1½¢, and provisions 7 to 12¢. With Liverpool quotations showing a substantial advance and with a continuance of excessive dry weather threatening damage to winter wheat, especially in the southwest, traders on the bear side of the wheat market failed to make any impression in contending that three cent advance which had been scored from the recent low point of prices was sufficient for the time being. On the contrary, the market began to move upward as soon as business got underway.

Meanwhile drastic new moves in the reparations crisis were being reported and war talk colored in question such as what Russia might do little heed apparently being given to financial and economic factors likely to have a weakening effect on the value of breadstuffs.

Reports that French interests were re-selling considerable quantities of Canadian wheat afloat in eastern lake ports had a temporary depressing influence about the middle of the day. Heavy new buying however, took place on the setback and the market rebounded. Final transactions were at nearly the top figures of the session, gossip about better prospects for farm credit legislation helping to some extent the closing rally.

Corn and oats sympathized with the wheat advance. Furthermore, Omaha and other centers were reported to be outbidding Chicago for corn at rural points that usually ship to this city.

Provisions were strengthened by upturns in the hog market and in grain.

By The Associated Press

STOCK PRICES CONTINUE TO RISE
NEW YORK, Jan. 11.—Stock prices continued their rise to higher ground in today's market which was featured by bullish demonstrations in special shares. Speculators for the advance were rejected by the further strength in foreign exchange, optimistic reports of domestic business conditions and the plentiful supply of call and time money at comparatively low rates.

Occupation of Essen by the French troops caused further selling of French bonds but good buying support limited the losses to a point or less.

Stock market traders were still inclined to look upon the foreign exchanges as the true barometer of European banking opinion on the reparations situation.

Reports that the St. Paul railroad had sustained another deficit in 1922, although it was smaller than 1921, and speculative uncertainty over the Delaware and Hudson railroad dividend had a restraining and depressing effect on trading in railroad shares. St. Paul issues showed little change at the close.

Call money held at four per cent throughout the day. Time money continued at 4½ to 4½ per cent.

Demand sterling got up to $1.67½ of nearly 2 cents above yesterday's close, but eased off to $1.67½ in later dealings. French francs held steady around 6.90c while the Belgian and Italian rates showed little change. Marks held at .0095c.

Except for a drop of 18c on $10 in the First 4½, United States government bonds showed little change. Uncalled Victrola gained 2c and the other active issues lost 2 to 6 cents.

Chief interest in the day's bond market centered in the rapidly with which more than $50,000,000 in new offerings was taken up. Bonds were closed on the $35,000,000 issue of new Bell Telephone of Pennsylvania 5s and the $13,875,000 issue of Baltimore & Ohio 5 per cent equipment trust certificates.

FARM BUREAU NOTES

Warren County Windows Display—In the west farm bureau display we have an exhibit featuring economical feeding of hens for winter egg production. This exhibit was prompted by the fact that most of our farmers who are striving to get their hens to lay eggs in winter are feeding commercial feeds costing not less than $3.50 per cwt. The farmer feeding $3.50 feed, was advised to feed equal parts by weight of ground corn, ground oats, wheat middlings, wheat bran and tank-age dry in a mash feeder. He has done this for two weeks and reports that his egg supply is increasing. The ration recommended costs him $1.68 per cwt.
The display consists of a small chicken house, a small self-feeder, eight artificial hens and one rooster, and samples of the ration as recommended. The window is appropriately decorated with evergreen, etc., in keeping with the season. The east window displays an exhibit on cooperative marketing of livestock. It contains a miniature stock yards of five pens and sheds, with artificial cattle, hogs and sheep in the pens, a small toy truck with farmer unloading hogs, and a railroad track with a stock train consisting of engine, tender and five stock cars. These windows are attracting a lot of attention and each is teaching a valuable lesson.

Planning Live Stock Production
—Plans for live stock production should follow established procedures and doubtful or untried practices should be left to the investigators or men with plenty of means. It is possible in most communities to locate successful live stock farmers and their practices should be used as patterns for others. In most cases these practices are in line with recommendations based upon experimental evidence and years of successful experience.

Successful live stock production includes the careful selection of stock for the purpose in view both in regard to kind and number of animals. Live stock of the proper type and quality are likely to prove the most profitable. For example, it has been shown by experiment at the University of Illinois that the better grades of feeder cattle make more rapid and larger gains than the poorer grades and that when fattened, they produce a relatively larger percentage of saleable meat. In case of breeding stock, careful selection should be made to insure the production of animals of the type demanded by the trade.

The number of animals should be governed by such factors as amount of home grown feed produced, experience in handling stock and the amount of equipment available. Sufficient live stock to consume the feeds grown upon the farm helps to improve a system of farming and is usually a safe number to advise. On this basis the operation is closely associated with the general farm plan while a greater number means specialization and requires greater managerial ability. Expensive and elaborate equipment is not necessary. Buildings so arranged to insure convenience to the owner and comfort to the animals are all that is required.
In many instances farmers are successful in their live stock operation with a small outlay for equipment by handling their stock under natural conditions in the open during most of the year—W.
H. Smith, state leader.

WILL WED MEMPHIS, TENNESSEE MAN

Miss Mary Jane Ellis of White Hall to marry John North,
Bride Guest at Pre-Nuptial Events.

White Hall, Jan. 10—The approaching marriage of Miss Mary Jane Ellis and Mr. John North, the latter of Memphis, Tenn., son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward North, is occasioning numerous social events of a pre-nuptial character.
Tuesday afternoon there was a surprise in the domestic science dining room of the grade school building, arranged by the teachers and attaches. "Who's Next?" featured the proceedings, and the conclusions centered on Miss Ruth Evans. Supt. David Wells presented the bride-to-be with a fil-agree fruit stand. There were thirty in the company, associates of Miss Ellis in her local school work. Her successor as high school instructor was introduced in the person of Willard Johnston of Mineral Point, Wis. Pink and white ice cream and wafers were served. The affair was arranged by Georgine Piper, Nell Glibler, Doris English and Rose Ballard.
It was announced that final semester examinations will be held on Thursday and Friday of next week.

Wednesday afternoon thirty guests formed a miscellaneous shower at the home of Miss Laura Baker on West Bridgeport street.
Lavender and white was the color scheme. Little Hallie Gahuly was attired as bride, and presented the presents to the bride-to-be.
The hours were from 3 to 5.
Saturday afternoon another function in honor of Miss Ellis will be carried out by Mead, R. A.
Hamilton and Dean Corsa at the spacious Corsa home on North
